

Investment Intern, Germany, Frankfurt or Munich (Spring or Autumn 2027)

Become an investment professional: Urban Partners' Investment Internship program 2027 in Germany

Urban Partners is looking for motivated students for 6-month internships in our Frankfurt and Munich offices within RE Credit, RE Equity or MAST. Gain hands-on experience in private equity and private debt investing, strengthen your analytical skills, and work alongside experienced investment professionals. Join a growing international company investing to create long-term value and positive impact.

RE Credit Internship – Munich

We offer a 6-month internship starting at the beginning of 2027 within our Real Estate Credit team in Munich. As an intern, you will support the investment team in evaluating financing opportunities across Germany, analyzing credit risk, executing debt investments, and monitoring the existing loan portfolio. Your work will include financial modelling, market and borrower analysis, due diligence, and preparation of investment materials for the international investment committee. Throughout the internship, you will work closely with experienced credit professionals and gain insights and hands-on experience across the full lifecycle of real estate debt investments. This is an excellent opportunity to build technical and analytical skills while gaining practical experience in a fast-growing investment platform, particularly well suited for students with prior experience in Real Estate Equity or Credit.

RE Equity Internship – Frankfurt

We offer a 6-month internship starting in March 2027 within our Real Estate Private Equity team in Frankfurt. As an intern, you will support the team across all stages of the investment process. Your responsibilities will include screening and evaluating new investment opportunities, managing the pipeline overview, conducting market research and asset-level analysis, preparing financial models and valuation exercises, supporting due diligence processes, and assisting in the preparation of investment committee materials. You will also contribute to the monitoring and strategic development of portfolio investments through performance analysis, reporting, and business plan reviews. As part of Urban Partners' integrated investment platform, you will work closely with investment, development, and sustainability specialists, gaining exposure to every stage of the real estate lifecycle and developing a holistic understanding of how value is created across our investments.

MAST internship – Frankfurt

In addition to the RE Equity Internship, our M&A and Strategic Transactions (MAST) Team is seeking motivated candidates for a 6-month internship starting in March 2027 in Frankfurt. This opportunity is particularly well suited for students with prior experience in Private Equity, M&A, Investment Banking, or Strategy Consulting, combined with a demonstratable interest in real assets. As an intern, you will work closely with a small team of experienced Private Equity professionals and support the identification, evaluation, and execution of strategic investment and transaction opportunities across asset-backed companies. You will gain hands-on exposure to the full transaction lifecycle, including market research, target screening, financial modelling, valuation, due diligence, and execution. In addition, you will contribute to the active management and strategic development of portfolio companies.

Enjoy our strong team spirit and engage in team activities and social gatherings.

Our ideal candidate

We welcome applicants who are curious about ESG-focused investing in real estate, motivated by solving complex problems and making an impact. We value analytical thinking, strong communication and collaboration skills, willingness to learn, and high integrity.

- You are a master's student or a recent bachelor's graduate in finance, economics, real estate, business administration, or other relevant fields.
- You are fluent written and spoken English and German.
- Proficiency in MS Excel and PowerPoint are required.
- Prior experience in private equity, management consulting, investment banking, or other relevant industry that has developed your analytical skills, is expected.

Application and timeline

Please submit your application including a single-page cover letter, CV, university transcript of records and answering our screening questions using our recruitment system no later than 23 November, 2026.

The recruitment process consists of two interview rounds, including a case study. You will meet members from the various teams. An online logical reasoning test is conducted as a pre-exercise between the interview rounds.

The exact dates and length of the internship are negotiable. We prefer a full-time internship. Please include your availability when answering our screening questions.
