

Investment Student Analyst, Nrep, Copenhagen

Deadline:
15-08-2025

Contact person:
Jakob Møller

Job area:
Investments

Position type:
Student analyst

Company:
Nrep

Do you want to be part of a company that is not only innovative in real estate investment but also deeply committed to making a positive difference for people and the planet? Are you looking for a workplace that values collaboration, personal growth, and creating meaningful change? If so, we'd love to hear from you as our new Student Analyst.

The team

In this role, you will become part of the Danish investment team, which consists of approximately 24 colleagues located at our office in Nordhavn. We are a place where people truly work together as a team, valuing each other's differences and the importance of every team member.

As an Investment Student Analyst, you will have the opportunity to be a part of and learn from one of the most active and skilled real estate investment teams in Denmark. We practice a mindset of always learning, because knowledge-sharing and exploration are pivotal to our success.

Professional and personal development is something we give high priority, and with us, you will develop by receiving and giving feedback from colleagues and by sparring with your team members. The team is composed of people with different backgrounds, all with their own angle into real estate transactions. You will be a part of a powerhouse of brilliant and caring people raising the bar for the industry.

The position

As a Student Analyst, you will support the investment team across various stages of real estate transactions - including acquisitions, joint ventures, and corporate transactions. You will contribute to both internal and external workstreams, working closely with experienced team members. This is a part-time student position (approx. 15–20 hours per week) alongside your studies.

Primary tasks

- Assist in preparing investment presentations and materials for internal stakeholders.
- Support in analysing and assessing investment opportunities.
- Help develop and maintain financial models and other analytical tools.
- Conduct market research and gather data to support business cases.
- Contribute to due diligence processes and coordination with external advisors.
- Take part in various ad hoc tasks related to ongoing transactions and team initiatives.

Your experience & skills

- You are currently studying for a bachelor's or 1st year of your master's degree in a relevant field (e.g., economics, political science, finance, or a related area).
- You have a strong academic track record and are motivated to learn.
- You are analytical, detail-oriented and have a structured approach to problem-solving.
- You are proactive and collaborative, with excellent communication skills.
- You are comfortable working independently and in teams - and eager to grow professionally.

What we offer

- Make a difference by helping create urban spaces and places that enrich people's lives in the most sustainable way.
- Lead the industry with an innovator that is pioneering new approaches while raising standards and inspiring the industry.
- Learn and grow as part of a powerhouse of brilliant people where teamwork, feedback, and different ways of thinking are at the core.
- Be your whole self in a purpose-driven culture with a strong sense of belonging, based on trust, celebration, and caring for each other.

Join us

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to contact Jakob Ström Møller (jami@nrep.com), Vice President in the Danish investment team. We welcome applications from all backgrounds and encourage you to submit your CV, academic record and, a short motivational cover letter. Applications will be reviewed on an ongoing basis.